Diphtheria Serum Flown to Florida

MIAMI (AP) — An emergency shipment of 32,000 doses of serum was flown from Philadelphia today to stem a diphtheria outbreak which had taken the lives of two children.

Six medical teams were ready to start inoculating about 41,000 school pupils in the northwest section of Miami, where seven cases have appeared since October.

Diphtheria is caused by a germ almost everybody normally carries in his mouth, but which only occasionally causes the disease. An antitoxin often given in infancy provides complete protection.

"We have a definite outbreak and it is serious, especially when you consider this is the first time since 1962 we have had more than three cases," said Dr. Milton Saslaw, acting director of the Dade County Health Department.

"Every once in a while, for some unexplained reason, this bug causes actual illness centered in the throat and spreads throughout the body," Saslaw said.

Money Asked for River Projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress was asked Tuesday to authorize $185 million for Army Engineer projects in 1970-71 on streams that flow in Arkansas, Maj. Gen. F. P. Kolsch, Army Engineer civil works director, said the funds needed included $65 million and $89 million for the respective years for work on the Arkansas River and tributaries in Arkansas and six other states.

He also requested $8 million and $18 million for work on the Ouachita River in Arkansas and Louisiana and $1 million and $4 million for work on the White River Basin in Arkansas and Missouri.

Takes Place of Lodge in Peace Talks

By STEPHEN BROENING Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — Philip C. Habib, the man who is taking Henry Cabot Lodge's place as chief of the U.S. peace talks delegation, is the only American official who has been assigned to the Vietnam negotiations since they began May 13, 1968. But he's been a Vietnam hand with-out a break since 1965.

Of medium height, he'll look out from behind his spectacles and tell you, "I came over on the Mayflower"—referring to the start of the deadlocked talks.

Ever since he came to Paris he's been putting in a minimum 6½ day week. During the intense secret negotiations which led to the halt of U.S. bombing of North Vietnam on Nov. 1, 1968, his work week was seven days long. Nowadays he may come into his office in the embassy annex for just a half day on Sunday.

Habib was assigned to the Vietnam question in May 1965 when the U.S. military buildup in South Vietnam was getting under way in earnest. Since that time he has been continuously involved.

For almost 19 months he's been "living, breathing, reading, talking and even sleeping Vietnam."

"It's not the kind of job you can leave at the office. If you're any good you won't want to," he said between cigarettes.

An acknowledged pro, Habib has the respect of his colleagues, both in and out of the delegation.

"If there's anyone who knows Vietnam, it's Phil Habib," a senior U.S. diplomat here remarked.

President Nixon at his news conference this week said Habib is a "very competent career diplomat, and he will be able to discuss anything that is brought up seriously by the other side."

Secretary of State William P. Rogers said he was "a very capable man and is perfectly able to handle any of the discussions that are taking place."

Habib's title, now that he takes over from Lodge, is acting chief of delegation. His diplomatic rank is minister, a notch below ambassador.

Habib, 49, has been a working diplomat for years, serving in such varied posts as Ottawa, Canada; Wellington, New Zealand; Port of Spain, Trinidad; and Seoul, Korea. He went to Saigon in 1965 as political counselor at the embassy. From there he went back to Washington as deputy assistant secretary of state for East Asia, then on to Paris.

Brooklyn-born, Habib graduated from the University of Idaho in 1942. After four years of Army service during World War II, he took a Ph. D. at the University of California in Berkeley in 1952. He lives in a Paris apartment with his wife and a teen-age daughter who attends the American School in Paris. Another daughter is a university student in the United States.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States disclosed Tuesday its three-point peace plan for the Middle East.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The lowest foreign aid bill since World War II barely passed the House Tuesday and heads for the Senate where opponents hope to trim it more.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House and Pentagon were asked today to bar the Army from shipping massive amounts of poison gas through the Pacific Northwest.

Measurements of Mars Are Now Precise

NEW YORK (AP) — Mariner flights past Mars have given scientists the first direct, precise measurement of the diameter of the planet.

The new measurements give Mars a radius of 2,125 miles and a diameter of 4,250 miles. Up-to-date textbook figures place the radius at 2,100 and the diameter at 4,200 miles.

Dr. Arvids Kihore of the California Institute of Technology, in a report Tuesday to the 131st meeting of the American Astronomical Society, said even more precise figures will result when the figures are analyzed further.

Opposition to Telephone Rate Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert C. Downie of Little Rock, a member of the Arkansas Public Service Commission, Tuesday said that a cut in long distance telephone call rates between states eventually would hurt telephone users who are least able to pay.

Downie, appearing before the Senate Commerce Committee on behalf of the PSC, was among several state regulatory commissioners who opposed an agreement between the Federal Communications Commission and American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Under the agreement, charges for interstate long-distance calls would drop by $150 million a year effective Jan. 1.

Downie said companies of the Bell Telephone system are presently seeking more than $500 million in rate increases for local customers throughout the nation.

He said if the FCC reduced interstate rates, this inevitably would cause the companies to seek higher rates on local and intrastate calls in the states.

"We are all aware of the huge sums being spent by the Bell system in the news media urging you or our son, daughter, grandson or granddaughter to call by long distance to talk to one or more of his ancestors," Downie said. "While this is appealing, we who live in the state of Arkansas think a pencilled note sent at a cost of six cents would be as welcome... if our monthly bill for local exchange service could either be maintained at its present level or reduced by any amount."

He said about 45 independent telephone companies in Arkansas could ask for rate increases. He said Arkansas has tried hard the last two years to upgrade telephone service.

He said one answer to achieving better local telephone service is to change the allocation of cost by telephone companies between interstate service and intrastate service. He said more of the costs should be shifted toward upgrading service within a state instead of improving facilities for long-distance calls between states. He said this allocation of costs was an inextricable part of the FCC agreement with AT&T.

"While we would not change or imply that the FCC proposes to act with indifference to the welfare of the average consumer, we, at the same time, would be in no position to defend it against such a charge."

Demonstrators Greet Nixon in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Bands of young antiwar demonstrators marked President Nixon's visit to the city Tuesday night by surging through midtown streets breaking store windows and clashing with police.

Police arrested more than 60 men and women after small bands broke away from a crowd of 5,000 protesters to wreak havoc. One policeman was hit with a lead pipe and a high-ranking officer was struck in the face by a stone. Five other policemen and five civilians were injured.

President Nixon was in town to receive the Gold Medal of the National Football Foundation at a dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. The President entered the hotel by limousine and apparently did not see the protesters behind police barricades one block away.

About 50 supporters of Nixon staged a quiet demonstration near the hotel.

The mass of antiwar demonstrators gathered near the Waldorf about 6 p.m. One small group flew a Viet Cong flag, and others raised a red flag on a pole in front of a midtown bank.

The violence began when Police Inspector David Falek ordered patrolmen welding clubs to form a wedge and "go in and secure that flagpole and get that flag down!"

increasing Social Security benefits and bringing on the veto threat.

Tuesday Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., sparked the delaying debate when he proposed the trade rider.

It would authorize the President to impose import quotas against a commodity being shipped into the U.S. if he found it was harming U.S. companies or workers and if the producing country was putting restrictions on U.S. exports.

The amendment is strongly opposed by the Nixon administration. Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans urged its defeat in a letter to Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., floor manager for the tax bill.

The letter said the proposal made no provision for a thorough investigation prior to action by the President.

Cotton said Stans has been talking about voluntary agreements to slow down textile imports from Japan and other nations but has done little about it.

The Senate also shocked tax reform advocates by killing, 65-25, a provision inserted by the Finance Committee to close what its members called a new loophole.

The committee sought to crack down on a scheme involving pension plan corporations set up by professional men, enabling them to circumvent limitations on tax-free amounts contributed for retirement income.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

WHAT'S A PARENT TO DO? Dear Helen: Last night I called out to our TV-watching brood, "Which one of you wants to be a nice guy and set the table?" What did I get?

"You know, Mom, every time you start with the 'nice guy' pitch, I get heavy all over." "Mother, you just used a 'language trap.' You were trying to hook us with the guilt syndrome." "Psychologically speaking, Mom, you just pandered to our basic urge for approval."

With smug grins, they then flipped coins and the loser set the table. They always come through—but darn it, they won again!

It's enough to make a grown woman brood!

MY child-raising books tell me to be kind and tactful—treat your kids with the same consideration you'd use on adults. But when I approach mine as I would a member of my PTA committee, they call it "conning" and point out the flaws in my logic (another course they're taking at school).

I say, "Would you like to vacuum the front room?" They say "No"—and do it.

I say, "Your father wouldn't want you to go there." They say, "You're passing the buck, mother dear."

I say, "The broccoli is wonderful with butter sauce." They say, "Mom, you're doing it again!"

They can quote everyone from Adler to Eric Berne and tell their poor old bumbling parents when they are playing games, fooling themselves or "setting traps."

It seems that when you're polite with the young generation, you are a hypocrite. And they have great fun pointing it out!

What's a parent to do?—ABOUT TO LOWER THE BROOM.

Dear About: Have "great fun" being totally honest. Catch your kids in their own "language traps." ("All the kids do it," "Be a doll, Mom, and iron my dress," "Just a minute"—the classic put-off.)

Tell 'em you agree that household tact is nothing more than "manipulation" and from now on you'll get down to the nitty-gritty with an unhipocritical "YOU WILL do this!"

In other words, play their game, (with a smile) until they holler "Draw!"

If you keep it a game, you'll all learn something in the process—like every wheel needs oil, but if you apply too much you can run up the works—H.

Dear Helen: They make a great to-do about putting shampoo in plastic containers. But I have yet to see peanut butter (at least my favorite brands) in anything but glass. And everyone knows how butter-fingered kids are!

I just wiped up another shattered jar of peanut butter, after my son had tried to make his own sandwich.

Could you suggest to manufacturers, Helen, that they convert glass jars to plastic, especially with products that are handled a lot by children?—ALL BROKEN UP

Dear ABU: Good Ideal! Why don't you write this suggestion to the maker of your favorite peanut butter?—H.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — ABC's Tuesday night lineup is full of good, strong and well-paced entertainment and has built up to the point where it is the network's strongest night in the Nielsen ratings.

"Mod Squad" established itself last season. Its trio of attractive young stars made a hit with the younger viewers and its fast-moving police stories attracted more and more older viewers.

"Movie of the Week," the artfully named 90-minute anthology series that follows, manages to come up with better scripts and interesting characters often—more often than those more elaborate and star-studded two-hour features the networks are turning out to help fill the short supply of old movies.

This week's program was an adaptation of a Paul Gallico story, a dandy mixture of espionage and appatitions. It was the story of a professor, working in a sensitive field, who sees the ghost of and hears the voice of his recently deceased young daughter.

Ray Milland and Gene Tierney, neither of whom have been seen on television recently, played the puzzled professor and his doubting wife. Don Murray was a psychologist who finally unraveled the complicated gambit in international spying.

The evening winds up with one of the new season's top hits, "Marcus Welby, M.D.," which is in a familiar mold, surely, but is helped immeasurably by the warmth of Robert Young in the title role.

The case history unfolded Tuesday night was that of a Negro police sergeant who hoped to become the first black lieutenant in his county. This led him to seek help secretly from a doctor because he feared his poor physical condition might jeopardize his promotion.

Scholarships Awarded

Mrs. Wilton Mullins, County Extension Homemaker Council President, awards 4-H Scholarships to Francis Hendrix (pictured at left) and Linda Kay Reece (pictured at right).

The Extension Homemaker Council determined selection based on financial needs, 4-H records, achievement, and scholastic standing.

Frances is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I.B. Hendrix of Fulton. She was a member of the Guiding Star 4-H Club for 5 years, serving as secretary for three years and junior main leader for one year.

Frances has won various awards in 4-H work such as first place in Dairy Foods in 1964-65. She attended 4-H Congress in 1964.

She graduated from Yerber High School with a 3.389 average. She was a member of the National Honor Society, President of the Junior Class and Vice President of the Vogue Social Club.

She is attending Prairie View A and M College at Prairie View, Texas preparing to become a Laboratory Technician.

Linda Kay is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reece of Shover Springs. She was a member of the Shover Springs 4-H Club for 10 years serving as club Vice President, Song Leader, Program Chairman and other offices of the club.

4-H honors included receiving a gold watch for First Place in the Foods and Nutrition Activity at State 4-H Day, and representing Arkansas as one of four delegates to the National 4-H Conference in Washington, D.C.

Miss Reece graduated from Hope High School in 1967, fourth in her class of 119. She is now a junior English major at Southern State College. She was on the Dean's List for the spring semester and has a cumulative average of 3.71.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Christmas lighting ceremony at the state Capitol will be at 7 p.m. Thursday rather than the usual Saturday.

Secretary of State Kelly Bryant said Tuesday the change in days was made because televised football keeps many people at home who might otherwise turn out for the Christmas show.

Bryant said the Capitol decorations include 8,000 bulbs outside the building, a large "Season's Greetings" sign across the front facade and a 37-foot lighted wreath.

The traditional manger scene is inside the Capitol this year. Usually it is on the front steps of the building.

Cats Coast to Victory Over Gurdon

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Coasting on after shaping a 25-point lead in the third quarter, the Hope Bobcats blasted the Gurdon Go-Devs 80-61 in a non-conference game last night at Gurdon.

It was the best offensive performance of the season for the Bobcats, with balanced scoring showing up in four starters making the double figures. Now Hope is 3-2 with a trip to Foreman coming up on Friday night to play the Alligators.

Backboard supremacy was never denied the Cats in the early going, and the big boys took advantage of it.

Not only were 6-6 John Dudley and 6-5 Larry Muldrew on the boards, but Ronny Brown, David Briggs, Parker Powell and Lynn Norton also got into the action underneath.

Hope took the lead to stay with 4:32 left in the first period, as Brown meshed a 15-footer from the right baseline for an 8-6 margin. Gurdon could not capitalize on its press, which the Bobcats have seen three of the last four games and can now master, and the Go-Devs could not do a thing.

Leading 15-10 at the quarter, the Cats then exploded while the heralded Gurdon shooters stayed ice cold, and the Hope defense both controlled the backboards and stole the ball away frequently.

Muldrew, Dudley, and Brown got the ball rolling, but Norton came in for a few minutes and quickly got four points. Six minutes later a 13-2 rout put the Bobcats in charge 29-12, and it was 36-16 at halftime.

At the break no Gurdon player had more than four points, but the Go-Devs took use of some breaks in the latter half to keep the Bobcats from going to sleep with the lead, which they did for a minute.

That inside game dominated action while Larry Beckham's Go-Devs were without any momentum whatsoever until Hope led 52-26 late in the third frame. Suddenly guards Paul Ray Catline and Hubert Preston turned white hot from anywhere on the court, a state which they would retain the remainder of the game for the devils.

An inexperienced referee duo didn't help the situation with a group of calls questionable to both sides, but Gurdon still began getting some turnovers from the persistent full-court press and edged closer.

Bobcat fans savored a 56-36 lead after three periods, but that last one was hectic.

Gatlin and Preston simply were fabulously accurate from anywhere now, and the Hope defense never could come out far enough for the 30-35 foot jump shots that burned the nets.

At the closest point Gurdon was within 69-59 with 2:30 still to play, and the Go-Devs fans were worked up. Now it was time for the Bobcat big boys to tuck it away, along with some free throw help from the guards, and the 11-2 closing stretch nailed it down for Hope, with Muldrew's 31 points the highest individual performance since Dudley's 33 in the Nashville opener.

Tomorrow night the "B" Lizards open their 1969 campaign at Mineral Springs, with a junior boys game first at 6:30 p.m.

Raiders Place Seven on AFL All-Pro Team

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Oakland's explosive Raiders placed seven players, including sharpshooting quarterback Darley Lamonia, on the American Football League All-Star team selected today by The Associated Press.

Lamonia, who goes into Saturday's Western Division showdown against Kansas City with a chance to shatter the pro season record for touchdown passes, led a five-man Oakland contingent named to the All-AFL offensive unit. Two more Raiders were solid defensive choices on the 22-man squad.

Kansas City took five positions and New York's defending league champs four in the ballot of 30 sports writers and sportscasters—three from each AFL city.

Lamonia captured the quarterback spot with a 2-0-1 margin over New York's Joe Namath, last season's AFL player of the year.

Center Jim Otto, making the squad for the ninth time in 10 pro seasons, guard Gene Upshaw, tackle Harry Schuh and wide receiver Fred Biletnikoff were the other Oakland offensive selections. Cornerback Willie Brown and safety Dave Grayson represent the Raiders on the defensive unit.

Kansas City had two of the top three vote-getters, offensive tackle Jim Tyrer leading the way with 27 and outside linebacker Bobby Bell matching Brown's 24 for high in the defensive balloting. Guard Ed Badde, defensive tackle Buck Buchanan and safety Johnny Robinson were the other Chiefs selected.

Matt Snell of New York and Floyd Little of Denver were clear-cut choices as running backs. Slender Don Maynard of the Jets beat out San Diego's Lance Alworth, an all-league selection the past six seasons, for the other wide receiver spot and 6-foot-6 Bob Trumpy of Cincinnati took the tight end position.

Denver's Rich Jackson and New York's Gerry Philbin are the defensive ends and Jet John Elliott joins Buchanan as the tackle tandem. Nick Bounieotti, traded from Boston to Miami last spring, is back in the middle linebacker spot after missing out last year for the first time in five seasons.

Houston's George Webster is the other outside linebacker and Buffalo's George "Butch" Byrd completes the defensive cast at cornerback.

Eleven of the select 22 are repeaters from last year's all-AFL squad—eight of them on defense. Five others were second team picks in 1968.

Kansas City's Tyrer, Bell and Robinson each was named for the fifth straight year, teammate Buchanan for the fourth. Maynard, a 32-year-old veteran of 12 pro seasons, is the oldest player on the squad and Upshaw, 23, the youngest. All the first team picks have been in the league at least three seasons except Trumpy, a second-year man with Cincinnati's 1968 expansion club.

The Western clubs landed 15 first-team spots to seven for the East. San Diego West and Boston East were shut out.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — John H. Stafford's Tudor Queen, who beat everything she faced in Canada and then won the Fritze Stokes in New York, was named today the best 2-year-old filly to race in the United States this year by the Thoroughbred Racing Association.

Horns to Try to Make Nixon Look Good

By WILL GRIMSLEY

AP Special Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon, who created a tempest among other contenders by naming Texas the No. 1 college football team, probably will play it safe and not attend any of the bowl games.

This was the word of associates who accompanied the chief executive to New York Tuesday night to receive the National Football Foundation's Gold Medal Award for his contributions to the sport.

"The President probably will be impartial and stay at home, juggling the television deals," a friend said today. "He hasn't said positively yet, because he loves football so much."

"But while he was sitting on the dais, people kept coming by and asking him what bowl he was going to. A Penn State man asked if he would be at the Orange Bowl. He said, 'no.' Another asked about the Sugar Bowl and another the Cotton Bowl. They got the same response."

"If he happens to be on the West Coast at the time, he might take in the Rose Bowl, but this is very doubtful."

The President made reference to the No. 1 controversy in an off-the-cuff talk to more than 1,000 $100-a-plate guests at the annual awards dinner of the Foundation and Hall of Fame.

He said at one time, apparently after receiving protests from supporters of unbeaten Penn State, he had considered suggesting a college Super Bowl after the Jan. 1 games to determine a true national champion.

"I figured I was in deep enough trouble already, so I dropped it," he added.

The Associated Press decided to hold its poll determining the national champion after New Year's Day games sending Texas against Notre Dame, Penn State against Missouri, Arkansas against Mississippi and Southern California against Michigan.

The President flew in especially for the award and appeared to relish the 3½ hours of fraternization with the great and near great of the game. He was greeted by lines of anti-war demonstrators who marched outside the midtown hotel.

"I thought Texas deserved to be No. 1, not because of that second touchdown—a great gamble," Nixon said, "but because, after the first touchdown, it went for the two-point conversion."

"This took courage. In the 100th year of football and nearly the 200th year of our nation's anniversary, Texas played to win and set an example for all of us."

Receiving the MacArthur Bowl as the Foundation's No. 1 team, Coach Darrell Royal of Texas turned to the President and said:

"Mr. President, we'll try like hell to make you look good."

NEW YORK (AP) — San Diego's Dickie Post, driving for his first American Football League rushing title, leads two-time winner Jim Nance of Boston by 28 yards going into the final weekend of the regular season.

Post has gained 767 yards on the ground, to 739 for Nance, according to weekly AFL figures released today, while four other ground gainers are within 106 yards of the lead.

Matt Snell of New York, 691, Floyd Little of Denver, 677, O.J. Simpson of Buffalo, 670, and Mike Garrett of Kansas City, 670, each has an outside shot of overtaking Post and Nance.

Even tighter, however, is the scoring race, with New York's Jim Turner holding a one-point edge over Jan Stenerud of Kansas City, who set a pro record of 16 consecutive field goals without a miss last Sunday by booting five against Buffalo.

Turner has 120 points on 30 field goals and as many extra point kicks. Stenerud has booted 27 field goals and converted after 38 Kansas City touchdowns.

Oakland's Darley Lamonia leads the passing derby with 210 completions for 3,114 yards and 33 touchdowns—three short of the pro season mark shared by George Blanda and A. Tittle.

Lance Alworth of San Diego grabbed the receiving lead with five catches against Boston for a total of 57, four more than Denver's Al Benson.

Rookies Bill Thompson of Denver and Carl Garrett of Boston took the punt and kickoff returns, respectively.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — John H. Stafford's Tudor Queen, who beat everything she faced in Canada and then won the Fritze Stokes in New York, was named today the best 2-year-old filly to race in the United States this year by the Thoroughbred Racing Association.

Rockets Are Expected to Hire Hannum

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Easygoing Jack McMahon is set to take over when the Rockets meet visiting Atlanta tonight.

Possibilities from the coaching ranks also include the former Cincinnati coach Ed Jucker, ex-Seattle skipper Al Babin and San Francisco player and assistant coach Al Attles.

Hannum coached the Oakland Oaks to the American Basketball Association championship last year.

Duquesne, Ranked 7th, Is Upset

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer

Duquesne traveled hundreds of miles to get upset . . . but Louisville never had to leave home.

Seventh-ranked Duquesne and 11th-ranked Louisville were among college basketball victims on Terrible Tuesday. Nebraska, hosting Duquesne at Lincoln, whacked the Dukes 82-77 and Dayton decked Louisville 72-56 in the Cardinals' nest.

The beatings of the ranked teams Tuesday night continued an upset trend since the season's opening gun last week.

South Carolina, the nation's No. 1-ranked team in pre-season polls was among the more noticeable victims—losing to Tennessee 55-54 last Saturday night. Purdue, Marquette, Colorado and St. John's of New York have been other top-ranked victims.

The unranked Cornhuskers, winning their first four games since 1919, used a strong defense and 26 points from the free throw line to undermine Duquesne.

Marvin Stewart scored 18 points for Nebraska and LeRoy Chalk added 17. Duquesne lost high scorer Mickey Davis, who had 17 points, and Barry Nelson, on fouls.

Dayton took charge of the tempo of the game, forcing Louisville to play slowed-down basketball, as the Flyers nailed the Cardinals.

Dayton trailed 29-28 at the half, but behind the rebounding of Ken May and George Janky, the Flyers pulled ahead early in the second half with their stall-ball tactics.

Dayton took the lead for good at 36-35 on a 12-foot jump shot by guard Jerry Gottschall with about

Old, Young Dread the Qualifying

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
MIAMI (AP) — Doug Sanders may have to drag himself out of bed, pull on those dapper clothes and battle a brigade of hungry kids for tournament berths on the 1970 pro golf tour. Hardened veterans like Sanders and fuzzy-chinned kids alike dread those Monday qualifiers. Usually it's 220 golfers firing 18 holes for 10 or 12 tournament spots.
Sanders, the graying winner of $549,086 as a pro, lost his automatic exemption by failing to make the top 60 money winners on the recently completed 1969 trek of the Professional Golfers Association.
The slim Georgian's $27,000 earnings dropped him well below the $28,100 of Steve Spray, who slipped by as No. 60 man among those who can sleep late on Mondays.
"It's not as bad as it seems," Sanders said. "I'll admit I don't enjoy the situation. It's a matter of pride."
Dapper Doug can enter 12 tour events where he has been a champion and has a lifetime exemption. Three other times he will be eligible for special sponsor invitations.
"I also finished in the top 25 in about a dozen tournaments," he said, "so I'm all set for those. And, as long as I make the 36-hole cutdowns I will be an automatic entry for the next event along the road."

Today's hand, which was taken from a book by Charles Solomon and Bert Wilson, appeared in our column early in October.

The play, as described in our column, started with South winning the first trick with the ace of clubs and promptly leading a spade toward dummy. West plays the four-spot and East lets dummy hold the trick. Later on, when a second spade is played, West follows with the seven-spot. East wins this spade with his ace, since he knows that West's failure to echo by playing the seven on the first lead shows three spades, so that South must have started with exactly two cards in that suit.

The purpose of this column was to show the advantage of the echo to show an even number of cards and the refusal to echo to show an odd number and we stated that, while four spades would have been unbeatable, this defense would hold declarer to eight tricks at no-trump. Several readers have written to point out that, if declarer would let East hold the first club, he could then make the contract against any defense at all.

We feel like the coon who, when he saw that Davey Crockett had treed him, is supposed to have said, "Don't shoot, Mr. Crockett. I'll come down."

If declarer makes this slightly abnormal play and follows up with the correct line thereafter, he can make his contract. Therefore, in our previous article we should merely have said that he would only make eight tricks if he made the rather normal play of winning the first trick.

You do bid one no-trump. West bids two spades, North three clubs and East three spades. What do you do now?

Labor Unions May Spend Tax-Exempt Money for Politics—but the Taxpayer May Not

The theory of American government, according to the statement inscribed on the Supreme Court building in Washington, is this:

"Equal Justice Under Law"

But in actual practice "Justice" is a dirty word. On Monday the United States Senate, debating the tax reform bill, defeated an amendment which would have prohibited labor unions from spending their members' tax-deductible dues on campaigns for political candidates. The grip that special interests have upon the federal government may be measured by the margin by which the amendment was defeated—59 to 27.

Back in 1955 and 1957 a private citizen—your editor—circulated two state-wide petitions against Arkansas sales tax legislation, merely to give the people a chance to vote. He notified the Internal Revenue Service he was claiming a deduction his out-of-pocket expenses to get the question on the general election ballot—but no part being for the actual election campaign.

The IRS challenged our 1955 claim on the grounds that merely circulating a petition was "influencing legislation" and therefore non-deductible. We went in to court on the 1955 petition case, stipulating that the decision would dispose of the 1957 case also.

Your editor lost in the Tax Court, the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals (St. Louis), and finally in the U.S. Supreme Court. The total cost to your editor—petitions, court costs, and tax assessments—was $18,000.

But we're still getting mileage out of that $18,000.

For today we convict the United States Senate of granting to special-interest groups tax privileges that are denied to the private citizens of America.

In 1955 and 1957 this editor was "influencing legislation" only indirectly—making it possible for the people to vote on a tax question.

But the United States Senate now says it is legal for labor unions to spend tax-exempt union dues for direct political action—campaigning for political candidates.

Whatever's wrong about America—and the people's faith in American government—this is part of it. A big part.

And if this vicious class legislation remains in the final draft of the "tax reform" bill it won't be surprised if President Nixon vetoes it.

America is at the crossroads—and apparently it's the president alone who can speak out for justice.

It was for this that the people elected him in 1968.

S. Vietnam Forces Hiked to 88,000

By GEORGE ESPER

Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government announced today that its armed forces have increased by about 88,000 men during the past six months, a factor presumably figuring in the third withdrawal of American troops President Nixon will announce later this month.

The government said its forces total about 1,090,000 men under arms, compared to about 1,002,000 six months ago.

A spokesman gave this approximate breakdown: army 374,000; navy 28,000; air force 32,000; marines 11,000; regional forces 252,000; popular forces 178,000; paramilitary forces including national police, civilian irregulars and revolutionary development (pacification) cadre, 215,000.

The figures showed a 6,000-man decrease in South Vietnam's regular army, but a spokesman said this was only a "fluctuation." Navy strength increased by 5,000, the air force was up 12,000, and the marines gained 2,000 men.

Approval of U.S. Mid-east Plan Unlikely

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers has disclosed a three-point U.S. Mideast peace plan calling for Israeli withdrawal from conquered Egyptian territory and a binding Arab commitment to end hostilities with the Tel Aviv government.

Rogers detailed the plan in a speech Tuesday night, expressing regret the Soviet Union had not responded to the proposal, which was presented to Moscow Oct. 28.

Officials said Rogers made the essentials of the plan public because recent Israeli and Arab comments had distorted the American position.

The three points: "First, there should be a binding commitment by Israel and the United Arab Republic to peace with each other, with all the specific obligations of peace spelled out, including the obligation to prevent hostile acts originating from their respective territories. . . .

"Second, the detailed provisions of peace relating to security safeguards on the ground should be worked out between the parties, under Ambassador (Gunnar) Jarring's auspices, utilizing the procedures followed in negotiating the armistice agreements in 1949 at Rhodes. . . .

"Third, in the context of peace and agreement on specific security safeguards, withdrawal of Israeli forces from Egyptian territory would be required."

But, Rogers said, there can be "no lasting peace" in the Middle East without "a just settlement of the problem of those Palestinian" made homeless in the Arab-Israeli wars of 1948 and 1967. He did not, however, say how the problem should be solved.

Tax Reform Issue Is Bogged Down With a Rash of Amendments

U.S. Pulling Out More B52 Bombers

By BOB HORTON

AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon is pulling the equivalent of two squadrons of B52 bombers out of the air war in Southeast Asia.

According to Air Force officers, 30 stratofortresses will be returned to the United States to rejoin the strategic bomber force or to be used in training assignments.

The removal comes at a time when North Vietnam is stepping up infiltration into South Vietnam at a rate tentatively estimated at about 20,000 men a month.

Infiltration routes have been a prime target of the B52s.

The action leaves the United States with three B52 squadrons in Southeast Asia, plus dozens of smaller fighter-bombers that can be used in the air war.

Defense spokesmen say the cutback reflects in part a Pentagon decision earlier this year to scale down the big bomber missions as a means of saving money.

Each B52 flight costs about $50,000.

The pullout also appeared possible in view of the lowered enemy activity just prior to the upsurge in infiltration of the last few weeks.

According to Pentagon officers, Army Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, U.S. commander in Vietnam, originally frowned upon giving up some of the B52 missions, which he considered one of the big weapons in the war.

But Abrams went along with the reduction.

The Pentagon originally budgeted for 1,600 B52 sorties per month. Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird decided last spring, however, that figure could be reduced to 1,600.

Actually, the average rate has gone lower than 1,600 sorties in recent weeks, according to Pentagon sources.

Laird briefly mentioned the two squadron reduction Thursday during an appearance before a Senate subcommittee on defense appropriations.

The defense chief said the three remaining full B52 squadrons provides 45 to 60 planes to wield against the North Vietnamese in Laos, Cambodia and South Vietnam.

Reports from Saigon on Monday indicated as many as 400 American planes daily were attacking the Ho Chi Minh Trail through Laos.

This indicated to Pentagon observers that tactical air power to a large extent was taking up the slack created by the ordered reduction in B52 sorties.

Judge Refuses Autopsy in Kennedy Case

By LEE LINDER

Associated Press Writer
WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — A Pennsylvania Judge refused today to order the body of Mary Jo Kopechne exhumed for an autopsy.

It was a victory for the parents of the 28-year-old secretary who died last summer in Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's car.

Common Pleas Judge Bernard C. Brominski, after seven weeks of consideration, denied the petition of a Massachusetts district attorney who plans an inquest.

Brominski said the facts presented by Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis of New Bedford, Mass., "are insufficient to support a finding of the cause of death" other than drowning.

In his 14-page opinion, the judge said that after two days of testimony it was difficult for him to conclude that Miss Kopechne's grave should be disturbed.

He said that if Dinis had any evidence that might prove the need for an autopsy "it has not been presented here."

The Massachusetts inquest has been delayed pending this ruling.

Reached by telephone at his home in New Bedford, Mass., Dinis offered only a quick "no comment," then hung up.

And in Edgartown, Mass., District Court Judge James A. Boyle, before whom the inquest is to be held, made himself unavailable for comment.

His clerk, Thomas A. Teller, said Boyle might have nothing to say for some time.

It was Boyle who delayed starting the inquest until after Brominski's decision.

"He couldn't make any decision until the final outcome" of possible appeals on Brominski's decision, Teller said.

Brominski said he took into consideration the vigorous objection by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kopechne, Berkeley Heights, N.J.

"While their disapproval is not an absolute bar to an exhumation and autopsy," Brominski said, "in view of the facts presented to this court their objections are well taken."

Joseph P. Flanagan, the Kopechne attorney said he was "very happy with the decision."

"We feel the family's position has been fully vindicated and their feeling that there should be no autopsy was justified."

The judge also pointed out that the presence of blood in Miss Kopechne's nose and mouth and on her clothing, as noted by Dinis at the hearing did not provide sufficient doubt to warrant exhumation.

New Donors Needed for Bloodmobile

The need for "new blood" among Hempstead County blood donors is very great. The burden of supplying blood for 20,000 residents of Hempstead county has very unfailingly settled on the shoulders of about 300 people according to Haskell Jones, Hempstead County blood chairman.

Luther Hollamon, for example, is well toward his third gallon. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith are regulars, who give virtually every time the blood mobile arrives.

The students at Red River

Vocational Technical School are giving a great deal of the blood now being received.

This visit, however, comes less than eight weeks from the last one and anyone who gave the last visit cannot give this time. If you have never given, this would be a good time to do something to assure the community of having blood when needed.

You can also assure that you or members of your family can have Red Cross Blood if you happen to require it in Texarkana, Shreveport or Little Rock. Otherwise you will have to buy commercial blood at about three times the price of Red Cross blood.

The Bloodmobile will be in Hope Tuesday, December 16th, 12 noon to 6 p.m. at the First Baptist Church.

State Short of Cash, Sells Securities

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Board of Finance Tuesday authorized the sale of $4 million in U.S. government securities to tide the state over a temporary cash shortage.

Mrs. Nancy Hall, state treasurer, said the securities were sold later in the day for $3,985,735.

The state has another $31,990,000 in government securities plus $19,691,500 in time deposits drawing 6 1/2 per cent interest in Arkansas banks.

The combined total of more than $51 million is the state's invested reserve.

Mrs. Hall said her office had balances totaling $18,856,291 at the start of this month and received $5,705,370 in new tax collections during the first eight days of the month.

The combined total is $24,561,661, but the warrants submitted for redemption by banks totaled $26,848,808, which was larger than the treasury's cash balance.

The bond sale produced enough cash to at least temporarily allow the state to meet its day-to-day fiscal obligations.

Tax collections in December generally are slow but increase significantly toward the end of the month. Collections in January historically are better and the state's financial situation should get back on even keel at that time, administration officials said.

U.S. Asked to Bar Poison Gas Shipment

By WALTER R. MEARS

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House and Pentagon were asked today to bar the Army from shipping massive amounts of poison gas weapons through the Pacific Northwest.

Sens. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., and Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., protested the Army plan, which could involve shipments totaling more than 700 railroad cars full of the gas from Bangor, Wash., to the Army Ordnance Depot at Umatilla, Ore.

Magnuson said today he has written Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird asking that the Army shipments be barred, "at least until more adequate safety precautions are taken."

Hatfield said he wrote President Nixon that the chemical weapons should be destroyed, not stockpiled.

Hatfield's letter cited Nixon's Nov. 25 renunciation of the use of chemical weapons unless an attacker employs them first.

Convicted for Draft Evasion

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A jury deliberated 10 minutes Tuesday before convicting Joe Willie Bearden, 24, of Little Rock of failing to report for induction to the armed forces.

Bearden, who said he was a follower of the Black Muslims leader Elijah Muhammad, was accused of failing to report for Feb. 20.

Trial Soon for Train Designed to Ride on Air Instead of Wheels

By RALPH DIGHTON

AP Science Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 250-mile-an-hour rapid transit vehicle with a revolutionary magnetic power plant—designed so it eventually will ride a cushion of air instead of wheels—begins trial runs next month.

The 58-foot-long surface carrier, created for 80 passengers but now filled with electronic test gear, was unveiled Tuesday by the U.S. Department of Transportation as a major step in its program to end smog and noise from future intercity vehicles.

Spokesmen said full scale operation of such vehicles would come sometime in the 1970s. The date, they said, depends on upcoming tests of the radically different propulsion system, based on a rear induction motor which uses electromagnetic forces to drive the 25-ton vehicle along a guiding rail.

Undersecretary of Transportation James M. Beggs said the motor, if successful, could "herald a new generation of faster, more efficient ground vehicles, particularly in our crowded urban corridors."

"As the development of rocket propulsion enabled men to break loose from earth's gravity, so the linear induction motor promises to enable us, on the ground, to be freed from dependence on the wheel," he added.

The prototype test vehicle, which resembles an airplane fuselage straddling a high, blade-like center rail, was displayed in a Federal Aviation Administration hangar at Los Angeles International Airport.

Next month it will be moved to a quarter-mile-long track in nearby Torrance for low-speed tests by the Garrett Corp., which built the vehicle for the federal transportation agency under a $3.2 million contract. Date and place of later high-speed tests have not been determined.

The prototype has conventional railroad wheels and runs on standard gauge railroad track, down the middle of which has been installed a thin, 21-inch high center rail.

The wheels have no driving power. Forward motion is provided by a large electric motor inside the vehicle. The motor acts something like a magnet, pulling itself—and the vehicle—forward along the center rail to which it is powerfully attracted but which it can never touch.

Engineers said the wheels eventually will be removed and the vehicle will be equipped to hover just above the ground.

Rogers Rejects Housing Plan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ROGERS, Ark. (AP) — Rogers voters Tuesday rejected a City Council resolution declaring that a housing authority was needed. The vote was 680-

254. A petition drive put the question of a housing authority before the voters after the council adopted the resolution as the first step in establishing a proposed complex of 200 low-rent houses, 80 of them for the elderly and the rest for low-income residents.

Foresters at first were baffled. They called the problem X disease and blamed it on some insect. Eventually, however, they tabbed the villain: smog.

The agent that withers the needles is a smog ingredient called ozone.

Prevailing winds carry smog from Los Angeles, 60 miles west, into the 60,000 acres of Ponderosa in the San Bernardino and San Jacinto Mountains, whose peaks jut nearly two miles high.

supported on downward-blasting columns of air as it slides frictionlessly forward along the guiding center rail.

In the prototype, the motor gets current from a turbine generator but engineers said later models will draw power from lines overhead or alongside the track.

Ex-Wife Says Mayfield Shot Sheriff

BERRYVILLE, Ark. (AP) —

Clarice Mayfield testified Tuesday that she saw her ex-husband, Billy, shoot Sheriff Orval Bishop of Carroll County when he was slain at Green Forest last July 14.

Mayfield, 29, of Harrison is on trial in the death of Bishop on a charge of first-degree murder.

Mrs. Mayfield said her husband also shot her.

She testified that her husband came to her apartment to inquire about a report that a neighbor had said she had been strangled by Mayfield until she fainted.

The neighbor, who lived upstairs, came down to the Mayfield apartment, Mrs. Mayfield said. She testified that she urged the neighbor to call police.

The call brought Bishop to investigate.

Mayfield opened the front door of her apartment a crack and talked with the sheriff, Mrs. Mayfield said. She testified that she told Bishop that Mayfield had a gun, which her former husband then pulled from his belt and fired, first at Bishop, then at her.

Lavern Bishop, widow of the sheriff, testified that she and her son were in the sheriff's car outside the Mayfield apartment when Bishop staggered out and told her to "get help quick."

Bishop died en route to a hospital, she said.

Aged Ponderosa Pines Dying From Smog

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) —

Twenty years ago, needles on forest giants in mountains east of Los Angeles began turning yellow. Many trees have since died and hundreds of thousands are dying.

The trees, soaring more than 100 feet tall, some more than 700 years old, were Ponderosa pines, among the largest in the woods.

Foresters at first were baffled. They called the problem X disease and blamed it on some insect. Eventually, however, they tabbed the villain: smog.

The agent that withers the needles is a smog ingredient called ozone.

City Joins in Flood Control Project

The City Board of Directors at their meeting last night, voted to join the U.S. Soil Conservation Service on a Flood Control Project that could possibly serve the dual purpose of Flood Control and a municipal water supply.

George Brown of the Soil Conservation Service met with the Board of Directors and explained the proposed water conservation project being studied for control of floods on Terre Rouge Creek. It will require an engineering study to determine if the project is feasible, and if it could also serve as a municipal water supply. The U.S. Soil Conservation Service will do the engineering study.

Mike Kelly, director of the Housing Authority, met with the Board to discuss several alternative projects in Urban Renewal developments. The Housing Authority has met with a number of local groups including the school board, to get a general agreement on what should become the first Urban Renewal development. No decision has been made on the exact boundaries of a first project, but the Housing Authority hopes to have a recommendation to submit to the Federal Government within the next 30 days.

In other action, the Board authorized the sale of an abandoned fire truck chassis to Washington, Arkansas for a price of $300. Also, they authorized sale of a used trailer that is no longer needed by the street department at a price of $350.

The Board reviewed bids received to furnish Standard Workmen Compensation Insurance on City Employees. The bid was awarded to the Bill Ellis Insurance Company on a bid submitted through Farmers Insurance Group.

Lavern Bishop, widow of the sheriff, testified that she and her son were in the sheriff's car outside the Mayfield apartment when Bishop staggered out and told her to "get help quick."

Bishop died en route to a hospital, she said.

TV Stations Offer Discount to Candidates

LITTLE ROCK (AP) —

Leake Television Inc., owner of KATV at Little Rock and KTUL at Tulsa, Okla., announced Tuesday a new policy, effective immediately, to discount its political rates 33 1/3 per cent.

The cut, aimed at making it possible for any candidate for any office to make use of television, will be open to all bona fide candidates, Leake board chairman James C. Leake announced in a prepared statement.

He said the cut was implemented because of the rising cost of running political campaigns and because the station believes "anyone should be able to run for elective office."

The trees, soaring more than 100 feet tall, some more than 700 years old, were Ponderosa pines, among the largest in the woods.

Foresters at first were baffled. They called the problem X disease and blamed it on some insect. Eventually, however, they tabbed the villain: smog.

Spa Defeats Rate Increase

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — A proposed increase in the sewer service charge was defeated Tuesday by Hot Springs voters.

The tally showed 3,374 against the proposed increase and 1,990 for it. Money from the proposed increase would have been used to finance improvements in the sewer system.

King Looking for Coach at Texas Tech

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Newly appointed Texas Tech athletic director J. T. King started work on his first task today—finding someone to replace him as head football coach.

The Tech board of regents announced at a news conference Tuesday that King had been elevated to athletic director and Polk Robinson, athletic director since 1960, would be given an administrative position connected with athletics.

King told a news conference of the search for a new head coach. "I and I alone will conduct the search for a new head coach at Texas Tech," King said. "And, being in that capacity, I am the only person who can speak officially on the matter."

King also said that no contacts had been made concerning the job.

King, who had been head coach at Tech since 1961, said he expected to complete the search in one to two weeks, and "certainly before the end of the year." He said he didn't want to work "too quickly for fear of overlooking someone who might be available."

King bowed out as Tech's head coach with a 44-43-3 regular season record. The Raiders lost two bowl games during King's reign—the 1964 Sun Bowl to Georgia and the 1965 Gator Bowl to Georgia Tech.

King was named the Senior Coach of the Year following the 1965 season when the Raiders finished with an 8-2 record.

Knicks Are Knocked Off by Royals

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The Cincinnati Royals finally discovered what it takes to beat the New York Knicks; 48 minutes of their best basketball. Not 47 minutes and 44 seconds.

The Royals tried the 47:44 figure a week ago last Friday and the amazing Knicks scored six points in the final 16 seconds for a one point victory that gave them the National Basketball Association record of 18 triumphs in a row.

Tuesday night, the Royals tried again, this time for 48 minutes—barely—and stunned the Knicks 103-101 at Madison Square Garden for their first victory in four tries against the Knicks this season. It was only the third defeat in 29 games for New York.

Beard Declares Golf Is a Business

By KAREN REW
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — "Golf is a business with me, not a game," said Frank Beard, whose business is good these days.

This week the Louisville professional was acclaimed the year's top Professional Golfers Association money winner with purses totaling $175,223.

"I'm very happy I could win this, though I'm not as happy as I thought I would be," he said Tuesday. "It's an example of the expectation being greater than the realization."

"It's just a great deal like going to the office," he said. "I've done my job, and by doing it well I can provide for my family and prove to my peers that I belong."

There can be no doubt in any pro's mind that Beard belongs. But Beard said he doesn't worry about his fellow pros.

"I don't know opponents exist," he said. He admitted, however, that he gave more than passing notice to Dave Hill, who finished second in earnings at $156,432.
